Introduction

Part of

QUBIX GROUP

Through a combination of specialist knowledge and experience 'Qubix Group' are your trusted partners in creating workable and efficient solutions across the sectors of Health & Safety, CDM, Compliance, Asbestos Management and Refurbishment, Fit Out Joinery and Project Management.

Our goal is simple; to offer a transparent customer focused service which is tailored to your requirements.

We make it our mission to deliver a consistent service, where finding the right solution for you is at the heart of our business. Working in cooperation with you, we adopt a methodical yet innovative approach that provides assistance from conception to completion through every 'twist and turn'.

At evoni our clients are our top priority

We comprehensively assess each proposal to ensure that the client's desires are clearly established and achievable before plotting the most appropriate course of action by following vital lead times and priority actions. Our inclusive approach ensures transparent, honest and strong communication with all members of the team including our clients. We are pro-active rather than re-active to any challenges we may face and keep a calculated focus on planning, decision-making and, of course, quality.

Management Philosophy

What to expect

We will be responsive, with immediate updates as you require them, and we will always maintain open, honest lines of communication.

When we are engaged in a new contract, we ensure that the most appropriate and current construction methods and designs are to be utilised. All trades people on the project will be briefed in detail before construction begins, to be sure that the whole team understands your vision. We will have a robust reporting and planning system in place to support efficient project delivery at every point. We will always aim to exceed your expectations.

We believe that absolute customer satisfaction is the most important element in every project we undertake.

Project Leadership

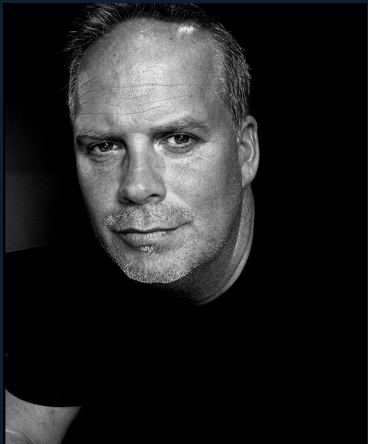

Our experience across a variety of different sectors has given us the chance to manage and create projects of all different shapes and styles. Our unwavering focus on quality and customer satisfaction remains the same, no matter the size or scope of the project we undertake. At evoni the management system we've developed is proven to hit our targets in all fields. We carefully oversee every element of a build, from budgets and programme, to quality control, and everything in between. Our committed team of professionals can be trusted to deliver a product that is not only fully functional but completely compliant, with certification of every element.

Value Engineering

At evoni we pride ourselves on our ability to construct bespoke projects to complement your new business model. We understand that the build process is just the first step towards an exciting new business venture and as such, provide value engineering to ensure your next project is both functional and cost-effective. Should a job costing come in higher than your ideal budget allows, we're well-placed to be able to modify designs and source alternative materials in order to still achieve a great-looking, high-quality finish. Our transparent building process and genuine commitment to close collaboration with clients, designers and tradespeople allows us to work with you towards our common goal – your complete satisfaction.

Our Team

Led by, Russ and Joe , we have an in-house partnered carpentry and joinery team. We also have a stable of expert tradespeople on call who we entrust with our projects' delivery and our reputation. We pride ourselves on these strong relationships, built over years of experience. Not only does this ensure that your project is delivered to the highest standard, provided at the best value available, and of course delivered to programme.

Russ Whish – Director

Russ has worked in the construction industry for over 30 years, from humble beginnings in the scaffold and access industry through to Health, Safety and Project Managing, with a bit of everything between.

Russ's previous role of 15 years at a refurbishment and joinery company lead him to be involved in many areas of the business in a senior capacity. Taking the knowledge and experience forward to create evoni has been the obvious next step in his journey to provide the best customer led experience and forge new relationships. Having extensive Health and Safety experience, evoni is lead from the top - with Health and Safety integral to every aspect.

Joe Matthews – Head of Projects

Joe has worked in a variety of roles during his 15 years in the construction industry, starting out in design and surveying, through to commercial & project management roles.

Based in Yorkshire Joe has worked around the country in a variety of sectors, bringing a wealth of knowledge and experience across the business. Specialising in retail education and healthcare.

For Joe quality is key, delivering a well designed product, on time, on budget, and to the clients exact expectations.
